

ALLIES' GUNS SWEEP VILLA CONTROLS BIG STREETS OF ATHENS PART OF CHIHUAHUA

Placing of Cannon Throughout City Puts Stop to Riots Against Troops.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—French artillery and machine guns now command approaches of some of the principal streets of Athens, and there has been no renewal of rioting, according to delayed dispatches from the Greek capital.

The French have released several of the Greeks arrested Tuesday night for shouting insulting remarks, detailing only those who appeared to be in the attempt to incite trouble.

Some of the London newspapers criticize the government for failing to take more drastic action to end the situation in Greece.

A writer in the New Age declared that it was known in August that King Constantine had been told Germany was collecting a huge army for an invasion of Roumania and that he attempted to form a Greek army behind the allies' lines, planning to attack the allies when Germany gave the signal. He suggested that the allies should have taken drastic steps at that time.

ARCHITECTS WIN SUIT FOR $2,397 WORK

Verdict Against Mrs. Henderson for Lincoln Memorial Plans.

A jury in Circuit Division, No. 2, of the District Supreme Court, Justice Stafford presiding, today awarded Murphy & Olmsted, Washington architects, a verdict of $2,397 against Mrs. Mary Foote Henderson, widow of Senator John B. Henderson of Missouri.

The architects sued to recover compensation for the design of a memorial to Abraham Lincoln, which was to have been set up in Meridian Hill Park opposite the castle, Henderson's home in Sixteenth street northwest, known as Henderson's castle.

The plaintiffs alleged that they worked for four months on the plan in 1912 and had not been reimbursed. The defendant denied that she was indebted to the plaintiffs and pleaded the statute on limitations in that the work was completed more than three years before the suit was brought.

Frank J. Hogan, Edmund L. Jones appeared for the plaintiffs and Arthur Peter and J. W. Whiting for the defendant.

The court's order also discharges the rule issued several weeks ago against Thomas E. Minor and other members of the congregation in an injunction proceeding brought by Benjamin Harrison and other members of the church as the result of differences over the election of a minister to fill the pastorate.

Carranza Officials at Juarez Admit Rapid Extension of Bandit's Power.

EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 20.—The entire western and southern portions of the Mexican State of Chihuahua now are under control of Francisco Villa, according to admissions made by Mexican defacto officials at Juarez today, as details of the bandit chief's bold raid last Tuesday on the town of San Andres began to reach the border.

The town of San Andres is only twenty-five miles west of Chihuahua City, on the Mexico Northwestern railway line. Refugees at Juarez claim Carranza troops are making no effort to chase the bandits.

Thousands of Carranza troops brought from southern Mexico are being held in Chihuahua City to reinforce the de facto garrison there, as military authorities expect another attack soon upon the city by Villa.

Villa has ordered every detachment of his command operating in Chihuahua to inform the Mexican people he is personally with that band in order to cause confusion as to his actual location.

All of the six bodies taken from the mine early today were those of Americans. John Drummond, electrician, and M. W. Allison, head machinist, were among them. They were directing repair work.

A number of men were injured, none seriously when the explosion occurred. They were clustered about the shaft and were showered with debris when the gas let go.

URGES NEW TRACTS FOR USE AS PARKS

Acquisition for park purposes of Piney Branch parkway and Klinge road valley is recommended by M. C. Hazen, District surveyor.

"This land has much natural beauty which renders it especially attractive for a park," says the report. "It is now, however, becoming a dump, and it is only a question of time when many of the stately oaks will be destroyed and a menace to health created. Besides there is apt to be a fire along the east side of Sixteenth street, destroying the effect of the Sixteenth street bridge, as well as closing the outlet to Piney Branch parkway on the west of Sixteenth street."

Piney Branch parkway should be acquired from the Zoological Park just east of Connecticut avenue, following the valley westerly until it connects with the park system of the Naval Observatory.

In connection with the condemnation of streets and alleys the surveyor recommends that legislation be obtained to defer the collection of benefits until the thoroughfares are graded, regulated or otherwise improved for travel.

am, however," he says, "strongly recommend the idea of deferring the condemnation of streets until there is an appropriation for their physical improvement. This would seriously embarrass the Commissioners in carrying out the highway plan in an orderly manner."

Recommendation again is made by the surveyor that legislation be obtained providing for the widening by condemnation of the privately owned rights of way in Harry farm, a subdivision near Anacostia.

KUTZ DISCUSSES UTILITIES' PURPOSE

Commissioner Describes Essential Difference Between Corporations.

"Some Phases of Engineering Work of the District" was the subject of an address by Engineer Commissioner Charles W. Kutz at a meeting of the Capital Traction Company, Section No. 8, of the American Electric Railway Association, last evening.

Referring to the work of the Public Utilities Commission, Colonel Kutz said: "I am particularly glad to be with you this evening, for, as an employee of a public utility company, you are peculiarly servants of the public, in some respects more so than employees of the District government."

"Public utility has a duty to the public which must be performed. A street car company cannot refuse to operate its cars before 6 o'clock in the morning or after 12 o'clock at night because it may not be profitable to do so, but must furnish a service to meet the public demand. This is the great distinction between a public utility and a private corporation. The public utilities act was not created by Congress for the purpose of exercising an arbitrary jurisdiction over the utilities of the District, but was intended to act as an agency for doing justice to both the public and the utilities; and this is the spirit which actuates the commission."

The following officers were elected: F. Morrill, president; Elton von Culin, vice president; E. E. Herberle, secretary; A. Wilkinson, treasurer; John McKay, director.

ATTACKS LEGALITY OF FATHER'S WILL

A caveat attacking the validity of the will of his father, Frederick Stohman, has been filed in the District Supreme Court by J. William Stohman.

Mr. Stohman died March 3, 1916, and a will dated January 2, 1912, leaving his entire estate to his wife, Linda E. Stohman, was filed shortly after his death. On May 4, the will was admitted to probate, and letters testamentary in the estate were issued to the wife, who was named as executrix.

The caveat makes allegations of undue influence having been used in the making of the will; that it is not the free writing of his father; and that fraud and misrepresentation were resorted to in the procuring of the document.
